THE

SENIOR CLASS

FOREWORD

To the Seniors . . . . . .

As our senior year draws to a close, it is with regret that we, of the annual staff, say farewell to Fostoria High School. In its place we are trying to leave with you an annual that, we hope, will serve, often, as a reminder of the hard work you have done—in your activities, the time you spent typing that term paper, those classes you liked or disliked, the hours you studied for the semester exams, the preparations and rehearsing for the school plays; as a reminder of the fun and good times you have had, the proms, the sweetheart dance, the football and the basketball games and the dances after them, the band contests, the choir concerts, assemblies, and school plays. But these are only a very few. As you look through these pages, recall, just for a moment, the many things that have made you a part of Fostoria High School.

The staff has attempted to give you an annual that you will long remember and cherish. We would like to thank every person, who, in his own way, made a contribution, no matter how small, to the success of the 1952 Red and Black . . . . .

Ashland College A.B.

Ohio State M.A.

TO THE SENIORS:

Your class is the largest to graduate from the Fostoria High School in recent years.

During your high-school days you have made many contributions to the life of the school through your wholehearted participation in the many activities available to you. Your interest in the school has been exceeded only by your willing cooperation.

May you always have to face challenging problems so that, through your effort in mastering them, you may continuously draw out whatever promise of manhood and womanhood that lies within you and may all the worthwhile experiences you have had in school prove useful to you in the years ahead.

My wish is that you may find happiness in whatever useful work you may pursue.

TO THE SENIORS:

The steady procession of graduating classes from Fostoria High School is sometimes interspersed with classes of outstanding character. The class of 1952 has such distinction having far more than its share of brilliant students, talented and versatile representatives in all our school activities and a closely knit cooperative class unit.

May I wish the class of 1952 continued success as individuals and may their excellent example of group responsibility and cooperation be remembered by succeeding classes for years to come.

We wish, for each one, success in your chosen work so that you will realize happiness in making the community richer by the contribution you are able to give.

CLASS POEM

Forward
Ever,
Backward
Never.
Ships there are—to port they come.
In harbors near their anchors cast.
Now we can leave for lands afar,
To search for love and strive for fame.
Oh, choose with care, my classmates,
The course that you will take.
For it's a dark, deceiving sea
That you will span for treasures rare—
At times it's calm, with sunlit waves
Lie velvet plains—so smooth and still.
Then raging storms will surge about
And you will quail beneath their ford.
But look ahead, for naught you gain
Is worth your while unless you strive
To do your best.
And when you've reached your journey's end,
Your banner still will wave aloft
That bears the key to your success—
Forward
Ever,
Backward
Never.
